Passcode: 7ws474ws59

09.30-10.30 Workshop “You are a health promoter!”, students Anastasia Belousova, Tea Tambur, Kulla Ilumäe and Liisen Kaasikmäe. Health promotion students introduce the connection between health promotion and health care specialties, refute myths and put your knowledge to the test.

11.00-12.30 Round table “Virtual mobility – challenges for VET institutions”, teacher-curriculum coordinator Birgit Nicolau Costa. Discussion about the possibilities of sending our students to mobility in order to fulfill their placement outcomes.

13.00-14.30 Round Table “Current Best Practices in Online Teaching”, lecturer-teacher MA Öie Tähtla and lecturer MA Hubertus Weyer from Magdeburg-Stendal University of Applied Sciences.

The COVID-19 pandemic has forced teaching staff everywhere to immediately implement online courses. This online round table intends to be a platform for sharing best-practice methods in online teaching and learning. The discussion will be structured by lead questions as for instance the following:

How do instructors effectively communicate with their students in an online environment? Can instructors build up rapport/relationships despite geographic separation and the lack of personal meetings? And how can students communicate effectively among each other in online environments? What are the implications of students turning off their cameras in Zoom meetings? How to make online class more interesting for the learners and the instructors?

The moderators will share their insights into the most effective methods and tools to facilitate online teaching and learning.
